It is out now and is available to buy from Amazon. (You can see my review of the video and audio quality here). The Ultimate Elvis Show is a sell-out tour, with the production from the Elvis, Inc. team, who have been touring him for the last twenty years. This is great footage of the show and is well worth your money, as it shows Elvis at his best. The performance started at 8:00pm with a surprise to the audience as the opening acts were

One more optional feature of the script: KEYMACRO. KEYMACRO is for functions for Internet Explorer. KeyMACRO is a PHP function to open a new windows in the user's default browser, not the current one. For instance, if you have a page named : `www.example.com/adword/`, with this function in PHP: And this function in HTML : ">Click me to see your new windows If you have the page "adword" in you home directory, then when you click on the link, you will see the page "adword" in the default browser of the user. Why is it useful? You don't have to install an extension or a trojan or anything of this kind. With KEYMACRO, the user's default browser can be changed easily with the click of a link. Use in your comfort.

What's New in the?

IeClose prevents Internet Explorer to start. With a password function, only user with the password can start/stop the blocking. Users will have the possibility to change the password with ease by entering the old one then the new one. Click to expand... What's the point of this? Click to expand... This is to prevent the browser from starting, it can be used to protect a computer in the event that some user gets a hold of it. In this case, we'll be using it to prevent Internet Explorer from starting, to prevent someone from viewing a sensitive website on your computer. Click to expand... Thanks - I found it now, well, sort of. I got it working, so it's not completely useless. When I enter the password, it doesn't allow me to start the IE browser, it just returns the prompt to enter the password again. Is there a setting I'm missing to allow IE to start, or is that the way it is supposed to work? That's what I did: I created a new user with an administrator account. I installed the add-on. I selected IE. I put in the username/password of the administrator account. IE starts. Any help would be greatly appreciated. Thanks, Rob Click to expand... Thats how it is supposed to work. If you want to disable IE, you have to add a User in the Administrator Mode and add
